Binghamton Public Library

BINGHAMTON is primarily a manufacturing city, it is also the county seat of Broome County in this "Empire State" of New York and is located at the junction of the Susquehanna and Chenango Rivers with a population of 83,000.

However, there's more to this town than these few prementioned statistics—much more than people actually realize or want to realize. Believe it or not we, like everyone and everything elsewhere, have a history. We were founded in 1798 by Joshua Whitney, land agent for William Bingham, and became incorporated into a city in 1867. We have sent our own boys off to every war in American history and have had our share of heroes as well as criminals, freak weather, philosophers, and philanthropists. We are distinguished throughout the state for our consideration and care of the blind and disabled. We possess, with pride, renowned landmarks, institutions, scenic spots found nowhere else.

We're probably nothing more than an average small American "metropolis"—but let's think and continue to think as we do—that we're more than just that. We're proud of our town and its people. We're proud of our accomplishments and equally sorry for our failures and disappointments.

It's this pride that makes Binghamton what it was, is, and will be in the future.

A ADMINISTRATION

Hello....

MARTIN A. HELFER

1953 GRADUATES

The future holds something for the man who keeps faith in it. Look forward with anticipation to tasks ahead of you. Keep faith with yourself, your fellow man, and with your God.

It is the hope of everyone, particularly your teachers, that you do your job well and that in the years ahead the education you have received and the spirit of your school may cause you to think back and appreciate what is yours with real understanding.

Martin A. Helfer

SELECTION FOR JOBS

Selection of the right people for the right jobs has always been important. During World War II the word "selection" had taken on added meaning. In the Army Air Forces, for instance, it was extremely vital to pick the right men for training as pilots, navigators, or bombardiers.

What was the skill pattern needed for success in flying? How could these potential skills be measured before a man had ever ridden in, much less piloted a plane? These qualifications were found necessary for the job. The pilot who was successful was good in problems involving mechanics, spatial relations, perception, and co-ordination. Such skills could be measured in the potential state by a battery of tests which indicated a man's aptitude for solving these problems.

Such a battery of tests were developed, crew men receiving scores ranging from 1 (low) to 9 (high). If a candidate had a pilot score of 9 he was a good investment and chances were that only five in one hundred would fail in training.

The application of this intensive research is obvious. Whether in industry, where selection involves hiring the three applicants out of ten who would be efficient and satisfied in a particular job, or in schools, where it means guiding the student into courses and occupational choices in which he will be successful, selection implies a dual knowledge. What skills are needed to carry out a task and what abilities does the individual possess who is to carry out the task? A certain pattern of intellectual, interest, and emotional aptitudes is demanded for any type of successful performance. The nearer the aptitude pattern of the individual to the skill pattern required on the job, the greater are his chances for efficient performing of the task.

Edward T. Springmann

"Ann Benson, report to 214," reads the short note to a bewildered sophomore. "I wonder what this could mean," thinks Ann. Her question is soon answered when she enters the offices of Miss Marion C. Taylor, sophomore and junior girls' counselor. Miss Taylor, educated at Mansfield Teachers College in Pennsylvania and New York University, has behind her a long career of counseling and teaching experience. Having taught in West Clifford and Montrose, Pennsylvania, and also in several other Binghamton schools, Miss Taylor has been a member of the B.C.H.S. for the last ten years. Although originally interested in English and having been an English teacher most of her career, Miss Taylor feels that as a counselor she has met many pupils and that among these her girls at Central have charm and are a challenge to any person.

In room 214 is situated the office of Mr. Schuster, the guidance counselor of the tenth and eleventh grade boys. During a period of twenty-seven years, Mr. Schuster has actively participated in activities at Central High. For nine years he was an athletic coach, and the remaining eighteen years he has been the educational adviser. Mr. Schuster helps boys to plan their schedules, giving advice and information concerning educational and vocational programs. Besides helping boys with their social and personal problems, he tries to find the field most suitable for each. Encouraging boys to do better work and to be more ambitious is another task of our efficient adviser. Mr. Schuster, sponsor of Honor Society, helps and assists with the reservations and ushers at graduation time. The boys problems are solved successfully by this pleasant man, Mr. Schuster.

The Senior class of Central High is fortunate in having for their counselor Mr. Maxwell Space. Mr. Space is a very important factor in deciding what the future will be for these boys and girls. They look toward him for advice and guidance to iron out any problems which may arise.

Mr. Space started out teaching history at Central High in 1935. Then, he taught history and economics at North until 1943. During the following years until 1946, he was the Director of War Activities for Binghamton and an interviewing officer for the United States Navy. He again returned to Central where he has been counselor ever since.

His various activities consist of disciplining, advising, guiding, and most important, helping these boys and girls get started on the right path for the future. Besides all this, he has the job of Student Staff advisor and scheduling classes for the new term.

The senior class should be very grateful in having for their counselor Mr. Maxwell Space.

Mrs. Donahue, the school nurse, lends a helping hand to Willet Silvernail.

Mrs. Wilcox, the attendance teacher, checks over the number of absentees.

There are two groups of people in Central who contribute much towards the functioning of our school, but who receive very little credit for what they do. These women are the secretaries in the various offices and the school nurse.

Both students and visitors to the school are greeted in the offices by smiling secretaries. They also make appointments, keep records, and work the switchboard.

During many weeks of the school year, our nurse is busy in the clinic examining students. Every boy and girl in Central is given a physical examination once a year. She is also kept busy taking care of all of our minor complaints which arise during the day.

Languages....

Seated: Miss Josephine Rosenberg, Miss Edna Brown.
Standing: Miss Catherine Keenan, Mrs. Edna Hinds.

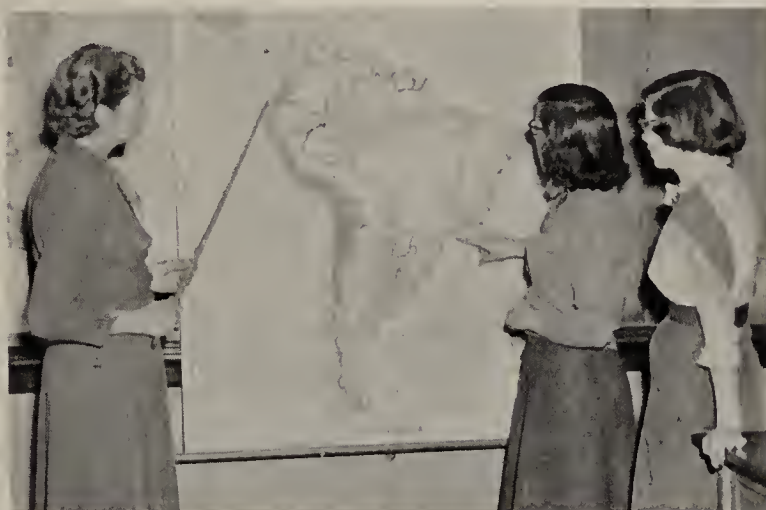

One of the greatest problems today which must be overcome is that of different languages. Our modern language department, headed by Miss Loretta Murphy, offers students the opportunity to learn French or Spanish in the hope that this knowledge will be of use to them in their future days. A background of Latin is not required, but it certainly gives pupils a distinct advantage in preparing for the study of a foreign language.

Not only does a course in languages teach students to speak other tongues, but it also acquaints them with the historical background of the countries where the languages are spoken, and with the customs of the people who live there.

In this ever-shrinking world of ours today, it is imperative that the citizens learn to communicate in at least one foreign tongue. Therefore, we urge you, the student, to take advantage of this opportunity and to study a modern language.

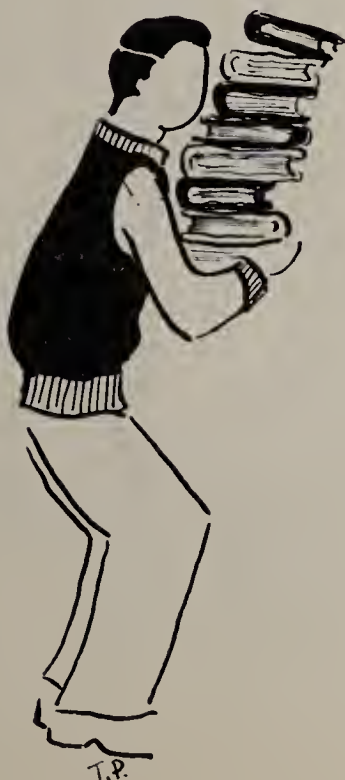

l'essez-vous says Mrs. Hinds.

Miss Brown points out a few things to two Spanish students.

Row 2: Mrs. Constance Flannagan, Miss Cristella Maston, Mr. James Kavanagh, Miss Helen Cusick, Miss Rita Taylor, Mrs. Angeline Stone.

Eileen Coughlin is learning how to compose a research paper with the help of Miss Balcom.

ENGLISH

Central students are given an excellent chance to develop their interests. During our sophomore and junior years, we take the regular courses in the English Department, headed by Miss Lemon. Seniors have a choice of Advanced Literature, Dramatics, or General English. Our English Department offers a broad scope of studies.

LIBRARY

Central students are able to do research work and other reading in our school library where Miss Sarah Burns and Miss Anne Savercool give willing assistance. The library contains a large selection of books on various subjects. The students are fortunate to have such a well-equipped library at their disposal.

Looking over a new book, Miss Burns explains to Barb Pullis the value of a good novel.

Miss Sarah Burns and Miss Ann Savercool, librarians.

History....

Miss Wulff shows Dick Levene that Alaska plays an important part in the defense of the Western Hemisphere.

The history course at Central introduces a knowledge of world affairs, past and present, to every student. By studying ancient, medieval and modern history, the pupil gains a better understanding of world problems. The maps, globes, and other charts in our classrooms aid the pupils in understanding the geographical characteristics and the location of each country of the world. Today the history teachers deal not only with past events but also with present important world affairs. By studying many countries other than our own, we learn and understand the customs and problems of other people. Also the courses in the political beliefs of other nations enable us to understand what they think. All this is part of the training which makes a student of today into an alert and active citizen of the future. Central's history department, directed by Miss O'Brien, gives the pupil just such knowledge and understanding.

Seated: Miss Louise Wulff, Miss Helen O'Brien, Mrs. Nellie Gonsi.

Mathematics....

Seated: Mrs. Blanche Beers, Mrs. Edith Calvert.
Standing: Mr. William Hogan, Mr. John Gable.

Mrs. Beers explains to Sam Smith exactly how to do a complicated problem.

MATH

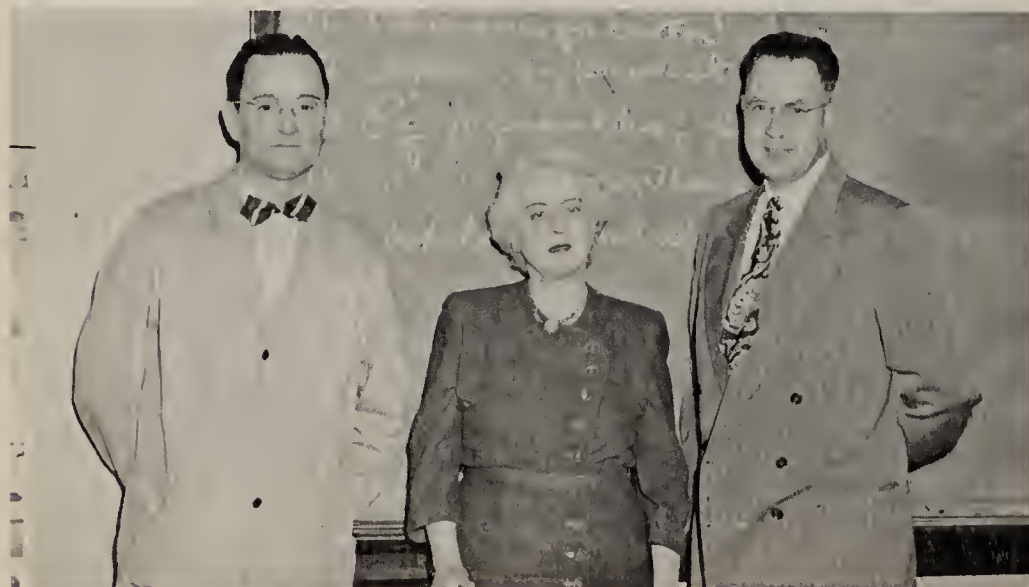

At Central High there is a variety of classes in the field of mathematics. These include plane geometry, intermediate algebra (either in one or two terms), trigonometry, solid geometry, and advanced algebra. We at Central are fortunate in having this variety of classes, for a student here can take the kind of math he likes best and still fill the requirements for college. Even if a student is not planning to go to college, he should take some type of math, as it teaches him to think and reason quickly valuable assets in life.

SCIENCE

Science is a subject offered at Central not only to prepare a student for a special profession, but also to enable the student to observe and identify certain scientific facts. In Central there are two science courses offered, chemistry and physics. In chemistry the student studies the composition of substances and the changes which they undergo under certain circumstances. On the other hand physics pertains to the science of matter and motion. A science major may be obtained if the student has had another year of science in junior high school.

Science....

Mr. John Grace, Miss Kathryn Hyland, and Mr. Donald Roehm, science teachers.

Miss Heyland explains to a group of physics students the operation of the static machine.

Miss Grace Holcomb, art teacher, and one of her classes at work.

Art....

In Room 325 there is always a constant buzzing of art students. Miss Grace Holcomb is the supervisor and does a very efficient job of teaching art. Each term new talent arrives with interest in art. The students very often draw a number of posters for our school plays and events throughout the year. They also make certain drawings to decorate the school. Each student is always given a week or more in which to finish his or her art project. The students are constantly trying to better themselves as far as their art work is concerned.

Home Economics is an excellent course which gives plenty of opportunity to all. The classes not only offer cooking and sewing, but other essential subjects such as child care, interior decorating, poise, and etiquette are taught. The classes are taught efficiently and interestingly in the classrooms or in the modern homemaking room. Modern stoves and refrigerators are constantly being used. The course, under the supervision of Mrs. Lillian Perkins, department head, is taught with the purpose to prepare young girls to be good housewives and homemakers in the near future.

Home Ec....

Commercial....

The Commercial Department is another major phase of education at Central. Under the supervision of Miss Katherine Miller, the course offers students a foundation for careers in business. The main purpose of the course is not only to give the basic fundamentals behind business, but also to teach the student how to apply his training after graduation. Such subjects as law, business arithmetic, bookkeeping, business machines, and salesmanship are taught thoroughly and efficiently. For those interested in secretarial work, shorthand is of vital importance. Another subject that has proven its value is typing. College-bound students find this subject a helpful preparation for their college days. Even during their high school years, students can use skills learned in the commercial course. Typists find plenty of work on the school yearbook and newspaper.

As a result of the careful and thorough education received in the course, many students obtain excellent jobs soon after graduation. Also quick advancement is assured to those who have had a complete commercial education. Credit is due to Miss Miller and the other commercial teachers for the wonderful job that they are doing in preparing students entering into the business world.

Standing: Mrs. Katherine Gross, Miss Alice Lowry, Miss Mary Miller, Mrs. Frank Bochnak, Miss Doris Reagan.

Industrial....

Central's ground floor is one of the busiest of our school's four stories. This floor serves as a training field for the many students taking industrial subjects. Pupils who take industrial subjects are trained for jobs which they will be able to enter immediately after graduation.

The variety of industrial classes at Central is great. Many of these contain a wealth of knowledge, such as: auto shop, in which the boys are taught the fundamentals of mechanics; printing shop, where the pupils gain experience in working with printing machines by turning out many things that Central needs which require printing, such as programs for the term play; and wood shop, where the boys make some things which are for sale. If you ever need a bookcase or a knicknack shelf, go down to Room 5 and 6 and see what they have to offer. Other helpful subjects are machines, metal shop and mechanical drawing.

But not all industrial subjects are for boys. Central's girls who wish to become beauticians are offered a course in beauty culture.

Any student who takes an industrial subject at Central is going to be well trained in that particular field.

Construction of the new gym is being carried on while many students anxiously await its completion.

healthy minds

For years Central has been without adequate gym facilities, with gym classes being held in a small, poorly equipped building. Only the boys had the opportunity for athletics. One sometimes wonders how our gym instructors, Mr. Art Sharpsteen and Mr. Hank Merz, managed to turn out championship teams, working under such disadvantages. Under their direction, the boys got a lively workout or played the game then in season. These gym classes served as the basis of Central's athletic program.

However, steps have been taken to remedy the situation, and BCHS will have a new million-dollar gym by winter. Construction of the new building began August 25, 1952, suspending gym classes early in '53. The new gym will have a large floor separated by a folding partition into two smaller courts. The seating capacity will be about 2,000. A welcome addition is a pool. The old gym will be converted into locker rooms for student equipment. Ramps will be built to enable the students to go directly from the school into the gym. The girls will be able to have gym classes also. An athletic field for Central has been proposed, but it is still in the paper stage.

Mr. Henry Merz, gym instructor.

Mr. Arthur Sharpsteen, gym instructor.

Lunch time finds many students making use of the facilities in the cafeteria.

and healthy bodies....

If you forget your lunch or don't care to bring it from home, you can step into the cafeteria and obtain a good lunch for a very reasonable price. Almost anything you desire, you can get. Whether it be sandwiches, salads, or a hot plate, the cafeteria has it. After you have eaten lunch, this is a good place to make last minute preparations for your afternoon classes, or you can sit and talk with your friends.

Have you ever wondered who did all the unpleasant tasks around Central? If you don't know, we'll tell you. It's the custodians. They keep the bells ringing, inkwells filled, floors swept, walks shoveled, and the grounds picked-up and mowed. They come early every morning to open the doors and get the school heated. They also have to saw off locks from lockers, when the locks have been put on backwards or in some other fashion have been made impossible to unlock.

Many thanks to the cafeteria staff, who fill our hungry mouths, and to the custodians, who make it a pleasant place to spend our school year.

finally....

DRIVING

The person learning to drive a car today should have two things foremost in his mind: Safety and a thorough knowledge of the vehicle he is driving. That is why Central offers a driving course to teach young people how to cope with the problems of driving. Mr. Harris instructs his class indoors twice a week, and then takes them outdoors twice a week for actual driving. He teaches each one to be a good, careful driver, not another "teenage menace."

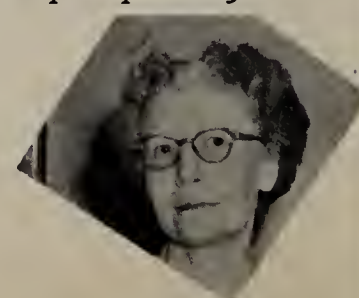

AVIATION

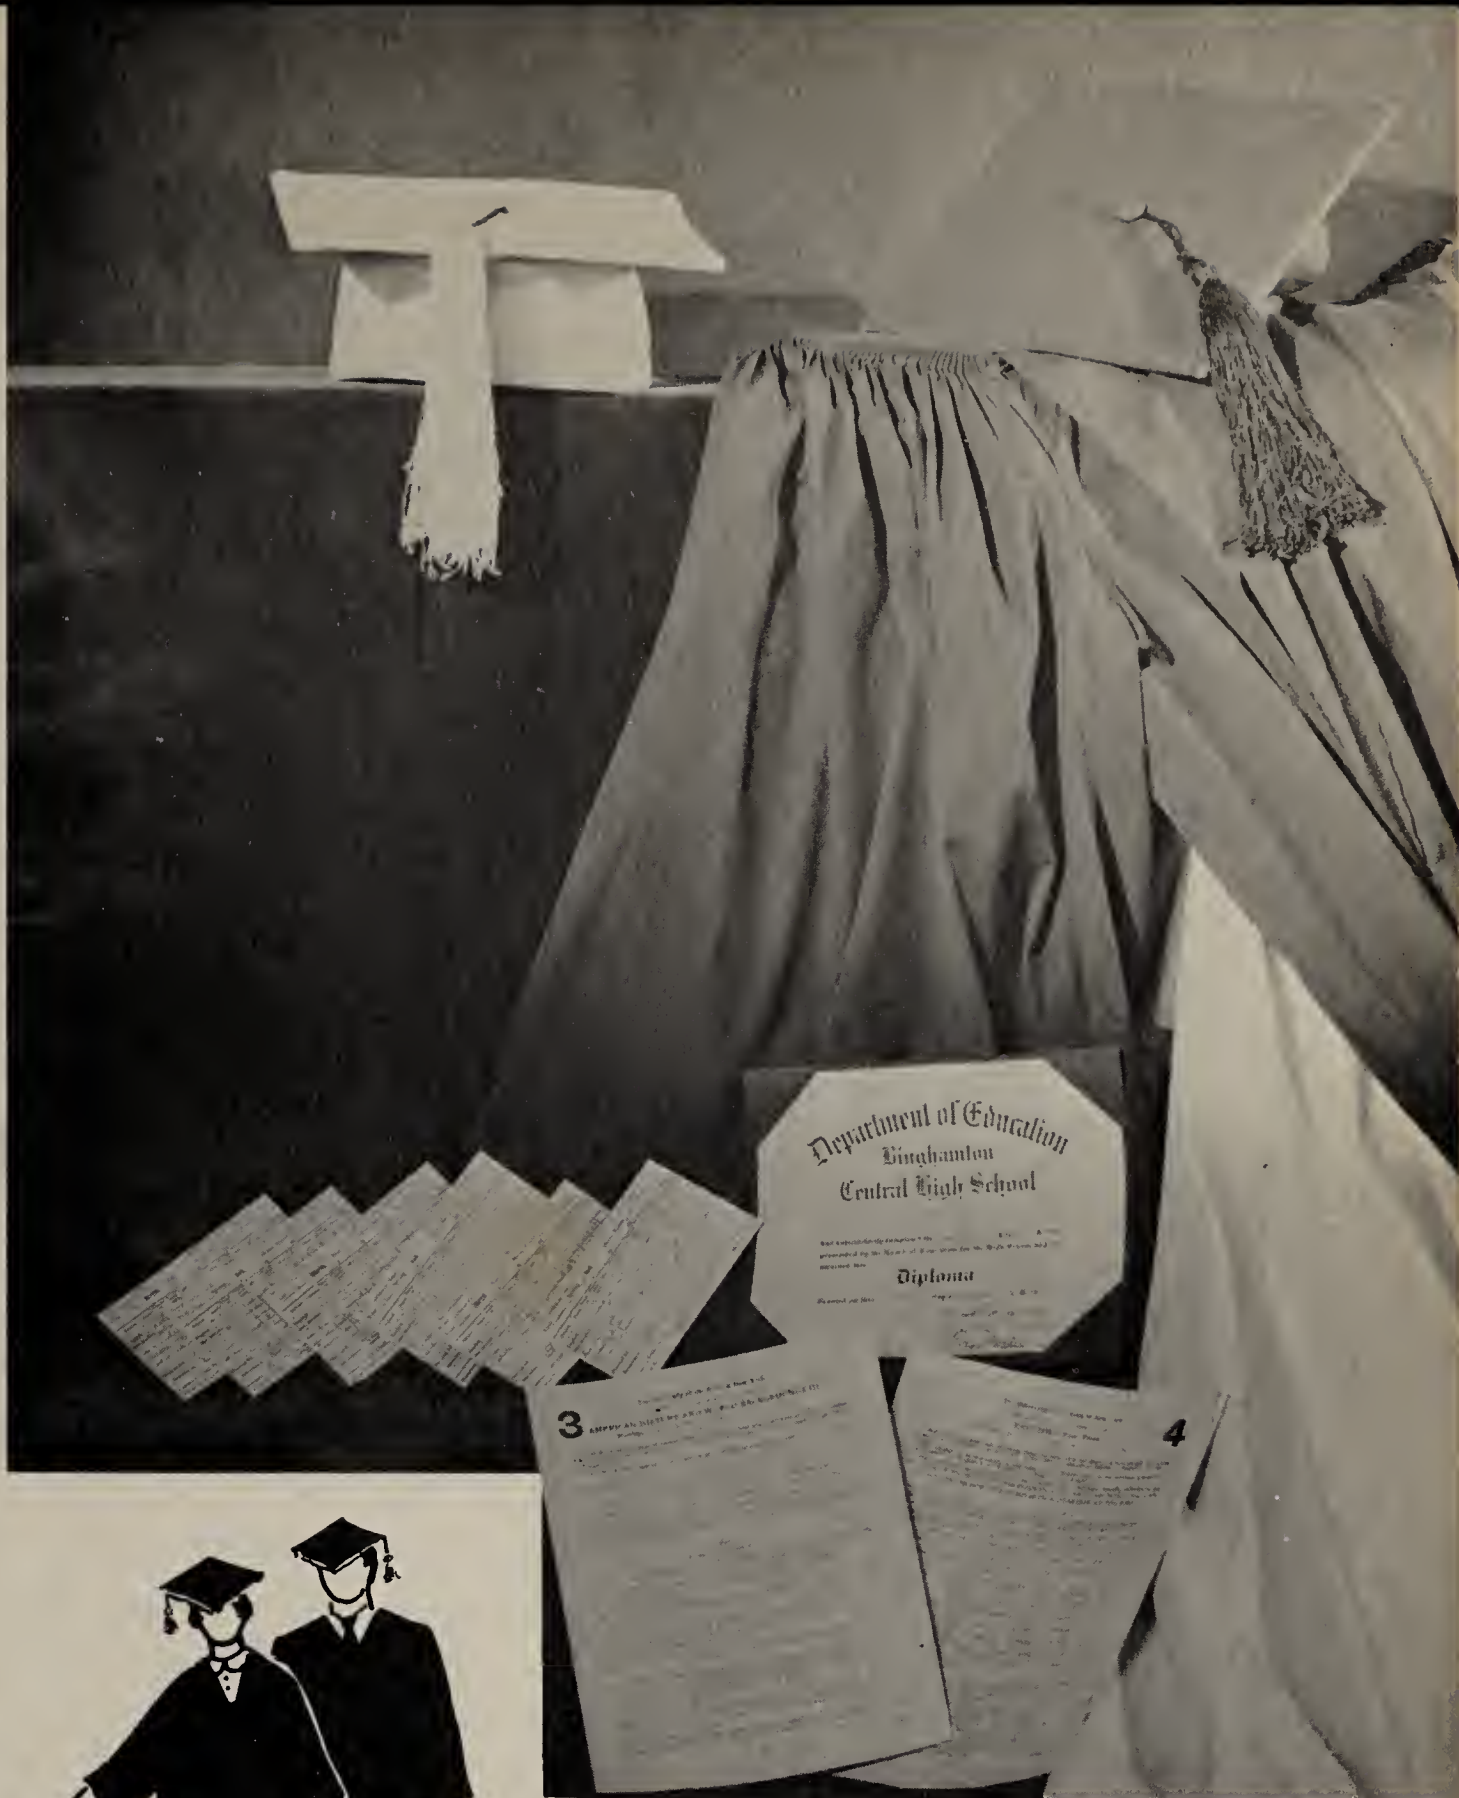

With the coming of the "air age," aviation has rapidly taken a prominent place in the minds of Americans. In order to teach the students who are interested more about this field, Central offers a course in aviation. This interesting subject is available to both boys and girls. Mr. Emerson Bateman, the instructor, is aided by modern equipment which includes a Link Trainer. Aviation acquaints the student with the fundamentals of flying and also with facts about the air and weather.

HEALTH

One of the easiest and most interesting courses required at Central is the health course. There is always something about this subject that the pupils like. It may be the psychology, which acquaints them with the functions of the mind, the physiology, which teaches them about the functions of the body, or perhaps it's the instructors, Miss Anna Bloom and Mr. Arthur Sharpsteen. Health also teaches the students the good grooming and nutritional habits which are essential in every day living.

ENIORS

Fall Graduates

CLASS OFFICERS FALL

Each term the members of each graduating class has the privilege of electing their class officers. The fall or January class officers were chosen by members of that class. They were as follows:

President Robert Kovac
Vice President Kathleen Casey
Secretary Desma Cox
Girls' Treasurer Elaine Johnston
Boys' Treasurer Tom McCafferty
Girls' Sergeant-at-Arms Connie Lovaglia
Boys' Sergeant-at-Arms Rudy Scheerer

There are special duties designated for each office which each officer acquaints himself with.

A CTIVITIES

GENERAL ORGANIZATION

The Central G. O. consists of elected representatives of the student body who in weekly meetings carry on the school's business. In the fall term, G. O. was headed by Tim O'Neil, president; Diane Scheiterle, vice president; Ed Stracka, treasurer, and Jack King, secretary. They directed the annual Papa Central Day festivities prior to the Thanksgiving football game with UE. On Thanksgiving night they sponsored the well-attended Papa Central Dance. The G. O. contributed generously in behalf of Central to the charity drives.

SPRING G. O. OFFICERS
Row 1: Jack Mc Cormack, Mike Lesso.
Row 2: Jennie Moses, Joyce Berger.

In the spring term, they elected Jack McCormack, president; Jennie Moses, veep; Mike Lesso, treasurer, and Joyce Berger, secretary. The G. O. cooperated with four other tri-cities schools in sponsoring a dance at EJ Recreation Center. During both administrations, student council conferences were held at various schools to discuss problems common to all high schools. Mr. John Gable is the faculty advisor.

President McCormack presiding!

HONOR SOCIETY — FALL AND SPRING

This is it! The great moment for thirty-two Central seniors has arrived as their names are called out at the semi-annual Honor Society Assembly. Thus the eight outstanding upper-classmen are selected from the fields of scholarship, fine arts, athletics and school service.

In order to qualify, one must have at least a 3.75 average and two scholarship awards for the first field, and a passing average and two awards in any one of the other three fields.

One may also have one award in each of three different fields. After a list is compiled of all those eligible, a membership committee, consisting of five Honor Society members, the three counselors, and Mr. Springmann, votes on the names and those who stand out most highly, receive the gold key in recognition of their accomplishment and contribution to the school.

Honor Society...

As in every year gone by, the Honor Society really puts its best foot forward in doing service for the school. It takes a large part in the sophomore and junior orientation program. It performs the job of doorkeeper and usher during assemblies. It puts on an assembly to honor those graduates with a 3.75 average or higher. All these are done under the guidance of Richard L. Schuster, advisor, and the Honor Society officers. The officers for the fall and spring terms were, respectively: President, Stuart Suskind and Harvey Katz; secretary, Joan Berks and Elaine Wearb; general officer, Donald Drewett and Sue Cronk, and historian, Kathleen Casey and Angie Liciandrello.

PAN NEWSPAPER — FALL TERM

During the fall term the Panorama gave the students a chance to read about the activities of Central in four different issues by presenting sports, club news, features, and timely articles. Editor for the fall term was Marilyn Hester.

....on the spot report

With the aid of Miss Helen Cusick, faculty adviser, the fall staff gained valuable experience in all the fields of journalism by actually producing a top-rate newspaper.

Members of the Pan contribute to the school section of the Sunday edition of the Binghamton Press.

By encouraging the pupils to express their opinions concerning the school policies the Panorama becomes the voice of the students.

PAN NEWSPAPER — SPRING

The four spring issues of the Panorama featured all the news about sports, clubs, and our school. The spring editor was Ted Smith and under his and Marilyn Hester's leadership the Panorama won medalist rating, the highest possible award a high school newspaper may receive.

During the spring term the Panorama had many articles boosting the building of the new gym.

Such sections as letters to the editors, "Papa Central" and editorials tie newspaper words to the functions of Central.

The teamwork of the spring staff was an essential factor for each publication of the Pan.

FALL AND SPRING EDITORS — PANORAMA

The editors of a school newspaper are the inspiration, backbone, and advisers that make their paper a first rate one. Marilyn Hester, fall editor, and Ted Smith, spring editor, were the two most important elements that helped the Panorama newspaper win a medalist rating.

Marilyn has many achievements besides that of having been editor. She has three Pan Awards, one in dramatics, one in public speaking and two in scholarship. She was a member of Honor Society and winner of Quill and Scroll State award for journalism. Marilyn plans to enter college in the fall and continue either journalism or home economics.

Ted also has made quite a name for himself at Central. He has been an active participant in Dramatic and Science Club, Debate Club and also a member of Honor Society.

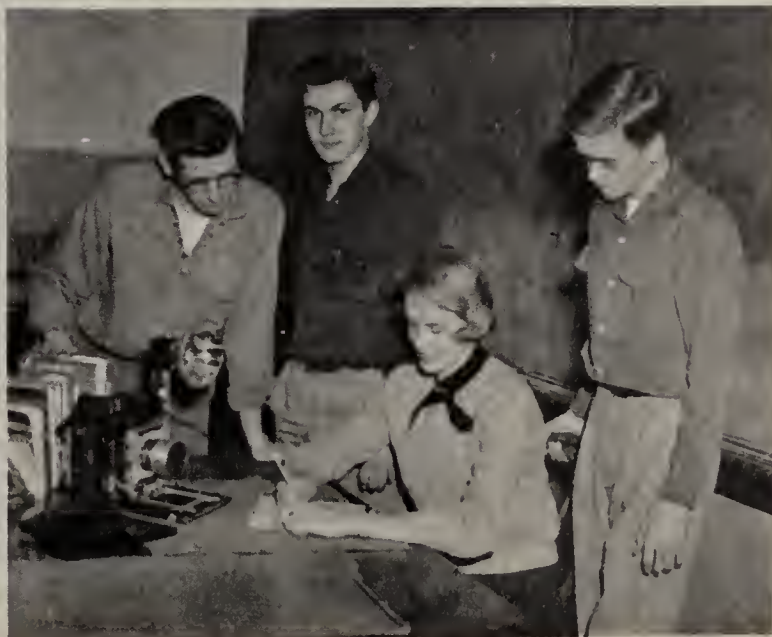

His many awards include two in scholarship, two in student staff, one in dramatics and one Pan newspaper award.

Ted is now President of Key Club, and he was former Treasurer of Science Club.

Ted and Marilyn are just two examples of this wonderful younger generation which is forming the foundations of tomorrow.

Spring Editor-in-Chief, Ted Smith.

The Central High Dramatics Club has had a busy school year with two major plays besides several smaller productions.

The fall play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," was presented on November 7 and 8. The large cast included Joe Petrone, Stuart Suskind, Audrey Freije, Norman Haddad, and Joyce Davis.

During the spring term, "Come Rain or Shine" was given. Among the main characters were Joe Petrone, Audrey Stevens, John Lisick, Anne Burley, Jim Stack, and Janice Brown.

In addition to these two plays, club members rehearsed several one-act dramas that were presented in the auditorium during noon hour and after school. The Christmas assembly was based on a play written by Miss Helen Foley, club advisor, named, "Paging the Bryants," with the main parts being played by Irene Lisick, Wesley Smith, Ann Kavalick and Rita Porubiansky.

Also helping in the production of the plays have been the stage crew and the regular dramatics classes. These activities help Miss Helen Foley, director, to see her efforts are not in vain.

"A MURDER HAS BEEN ARRANGED"

Emlyn Williams' ghost play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," was presented by B. C. H. S. Dramatics Class on November 7 and 8.

"A Murder Has Been Arranged" was a very imaginative mystery, the scene of which was the St. James Theatre, London.

Directed by Helen Foley, there was a feeling of suspense throughout the play.

(Fall Play) The mysterious cast of "A Murder Has Been Arranged", the arrival of the phantom guest.

(Spring Play) In "Come Rain or Shine" the scenery made everyone anxious "to jump in"!

"COME RAIN OR SHINE"

The Binghamton Central High Dramatics Class presented the play "Come Rain or Shine" during February 27 and 28.

The gay comedy was centered around Jacqueline Grayson, a delightful high spirited college girl, and the incidents which led her into young womanhood.

Directed by Helen M. Foley, this is a rich, warm-hearted comedy of real people.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Club, headed by Mr. James P. Kavanaugh, has enjoyed a full year. After the weekly business meeting, debates are held on timely subjects such as "Students with a 'B' average should be exempt from regents," "The status should control the off-shore wells" and "The McCarran Immigration Act."

This year Debate Club presented a radio panel discussion and were offered a 15-minute spot for a weekly program as a result.

At a special assembly the club debated, "Resolved, Homework now should be abolished in high school." Those who took part were negative Lorraine Borris and Ted Smith; affirmative Sue Kline and Harvey Katz.

SCIENCE CLUB

A new addition to the many clubs of Central High is Science Club. Although only recently formed, it has already established a name for itself. Covering the wide field of science, the club program has included lectures by eminent local speakers and discussions conducted by the club members. To further increase interest in science, contests were sponsored by the group. These contests were opened to the school and included cash prizes. It is hoped by all that, under the leadership of its president, Stan Smulowitz, Science Club will continue to grow until it is one of the school's leading clubs.

KEY CLUB

One of the more prominent service clubs at Central is Key Club. This group is part of an international setup under the guidance of the Binghamton Kiwanis Club. The membership is limited to boys with a good scholastic average. The club program has included several local speakers and a magazine drive. Also the boys help the teachers with the operation of the motion picture equipment. The present officers include Ted Smith, president; Gerald Goldstein, vice president; Jerry Metz, secretary; Bernie Rosefsky, treasurer. Key Club is looking forward to another successful year.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

For the first time in the history of Binghamton Central High School the annual boys' and girls' oratorical contests, the Lyons-Weeks and Disinger-Church contests respectively, were combined and held in the form of an assembly before the school in March. Joseph Pierson was moderator. Richard Aswad, speaking on the people along his paper route, and Ramona Taylor, speaking on the probability of peace, won in their respective divisions. The other finalists were Timothy O'Neil, speaking on the contributions of the Irish, and Dhyana McCollum, speaking on the power and strength of the individual. In May, another speaking contest was held in which Central students participated. This was the Gerhart speaking contest sponsored by the attorney, Eugene Gerhart, in order to promote the art and ability of public speaking. This contest differs from the first mentioned in that it is open to students of both Binghamton schools and is held in both schools in alternate years. The topic for this year was "Should the United States Congress pass an anti-discrimination law." The contest was held at North and the Central High participants were Harvey Katz and Margaret Smith.

One of the newer and smaller clubs of Central is the Photo Club. During the past year, the members have been learning and practicing new methods of taking better pictures. Having fixed up their own dark room in 323, the club members are able to develop and print their pictures. In this way the boys are gaining valuable experience and training for future years. This club is a great asset to the school for many of the fine pictures in the Pan Newspaper and Pan Annual have been taken by the club members. Camera Club advisor is Mr. John Gable.

Central has many clubs and among the smaller ones is Y-Teens. This organization provides social entertainment for the twenty active members, although the girls do have some service projects. The Y.W.C.A. is the girls' meeting place every Wednesday night. All of the girls are members of the "Y" and are affiliated with other organizations there. Miss Delores Pignatelli acts as the club's advisor. The officers of Y-Teens are Alfreda Bennett, president; Carol Sedor, vice president; Juanita Lord, recording secretary; Elizabeth Balok, corresponding secretary; Jean Jones, treasurer, and Norma Heverly, sergeant-at-arms.

HI-Y

One of our smaller clubs at Central is Hi-Y. This year Dick Levene heads the group as president. Other officers of the organization are Don Besig, vice president; Dave Branch, secretary; Wayne Robinson, treasurer; Bill Mould, historian, and Steve Smith, chaplin. The boys meet every Tuesday night at the Y.M.C.A. and plan future activities and projects. They contribute much of their time and energy raising money by putting on dances every other week at the Y.M.C.A. Mr. J. P. Kavanaugh acts as the club's advisor.

There are no schools which are complete unless they have a group of people to aid in the various departments. At Central High when teachers or counselors ask for assistance, they call upon student staff members. This organization is one of Central's most essential organizations. The students who act as assistants must have a fairly high scholastic average, a free study hall, and a willingness to work.

The members of student staff often are in charge of study halls. If teachers need someone to help them mark books, a member will come to their aid. Staff members assist in the library and perform many tasks in the clinic. Very often they are called upon to deliver messages in various parts of school. The students are of valuable aid to the teachers and counselors. Sometimes they are asked to take inventory. They are always ready with their aid and assistance whenever they are needed.

By performing these many small tasks, student staff members not only render valuable assistance, but also earn an award for each year's service. They deserve this for their wonderful assistance at Central.

RED CROSS

Central's Red Cross has been living up to its aim of becoming one of Broome County's most active chapters. Lorraine Borris was president this year. Officers in the fall were Karol Oeffering, Vice-President; Karen Davis, Treasurer; Nan Pearlman, Secretary; Marvin McLean, Sergeant-at-Arms. Officers in the spring were Sylvia Pierson, Vice-President; Karen Davis, Treasurer; Nan Pearlman, Secretary; Marvin McLean, Sergeant-at-Arms.

During the fall a scrapbook was made containing writings and pictures showing the American way of life.

At Christmas time a wooden chest was filled with gifts for a deserving school in Europe. A committee, headed by Sylvia Pierson, filled it with such things as school supplies, a first aid kit, soap, towels and paint.

LIT CLUB

Lit Club, an organization for girls only, meets every other Tuesday. The purpose of the club is to further the girls' knowledge of music, art and literature. To be eligible for membership the girls must be in their Junior A term. Mrs. Flanagan is the club's faculty advisor.

Mr. Kavanaugh and Miss Cusick gave book reviews in the fall and spring terms respectively. Before Christmas they went to Mr. Williams' house where he entertained them by playing all types of records.

At the end of each term they have a dinner for the outgoing seniors. Sue Cronk was president in the fall, and Audrey Stevens took over in the spring.

ORCHESTRA

A good orchestra is always a source of pride to a school. It is for this reason that Central is proud of its forty-odd piece orchestra. The group, led very capably by Mr. Alphonse Nowak, has taken an active part in many of Central's activities. Among these can be cited six assemblies and all of the dramatic presentations. In addition, the orchestra played at the annual Night of Music held at West Junior in May.

Few people, outside of those in the orchestra, realize the amount of work Mr. Nowak and the members of the group go through to put on a musical program. There is constant practice, arranging and preparing new pieces for presentation. It is a difficult task, one which has caused a great deal of worry, hard work and short tempers; but ultimately, fine music and enjoyment. It is this culmination of efforts which has been the source of pride to Central.

BAND

A good marching band is usually cited as having the following: Good musicians, hard working members, fine marchers and, most important, an able leader. Central has all of these, especially the last—an able leader. Such a leader is Berney Shiffrin, a man many times called the best in this area.

The band had a full year. They started it by marching and playing at football games. The band again played for the last few games of the basketball season. They were liked well enough and were sent to the Sectional Championship game in Ithaca. In March the band played, escorting Eggbert, the Easter Rabbit, into town. They competed in the New York State Band Contest during May. They also played in May at West Junior during the Night of Music and marched again on Memorial Day. All of the months were busy ones for the band. But it went through all of them, leaving fond memories to those that stay and those that graduate.

PAN ANNUAL

Central is full of photogenic people. Ask any one of them. When a student picks up a Pan Annual, the first thing he does is look for his own picture. Having found it and given it due admiration, he leafs through the rest of the book. Filled with self-admiration, he seldom realizes the tremendous amount of work needed to get his name, picture and accomplishments in the Annual.

Homeroom 325 is the GHQ for Pan Annual work. Although work on the Annual goes on all year, there is always a last-minute rush in the spring to get it to press. In the hustle one can find the Business Manager, Evelyn Heiyen, urging her staff to "get those ads in"; the copy editor, Mary Ann Bedosky, demanding that the staffs keep their write-ups under the work limit; the art staff discussing layouts; Ray Dudek, the chief photographer, scurrying around snapping pictures from all angles. Over this orderly confusion presides the Editor-in-Chief, Jack King. He checks everyone, arranges staff meetings, supervises layouts and hopes the publication deadline will be met. The entire staff consists of about thirty-two members. Miss Grace Holcomb is the faculty advisor.

PAN ANNUAL

Presenting

"IN OLD LOUISIANA"

Pilot Farley and a little child are the only survivors of the steamboat "Winona." The pilot adopts the child and brings her up as his own daughter. The operetta opens when this child, named Rose, has grown to young womanhood.

Rose is loved by and returns the affection of Richard St. John, a young Southern sugar planter, but Simon Scudder, overseer of the pilot's plantation, also loves Rose. Because she refuses his attentions, Scudder plans, with the help of Jake Martin and Holly Timms, to claim that Rose is the daughter of an octoroon slave.

Rose, not knowing who her parents were, refuses to become Dick's wife because she fears she may have Negro blood in her veins, although she is unaware of Scudder's plan.

The conspirators confront the pilot with a forged paper to back their claims, but Dick accuses Scudder of forging the document. This leads to a duel between them. Scudder shoots before the signal and wounds Dick in the hand. According to the code of dueling, Dick is allowed another shot, but he cannot take a man's life in cold blood.

Rose is attracted to the spot by the firing. Scudder is about to tell her that she is an octoroon when he is interrupted by the arrival of Sheriff MacDougal and the Marquis de la Tour, the latter proving to be Rose's grandfather.

Scudder, Timms and Martin are put under arrest and have a long term of imprisonment facing them. The Marquis gives the consent to the marriage of Rose and Dick, and all ends happily.

DANCE BAND

Although only recently organized, Central's Dance Band has quickly become one of Central's best known organizations. Under the direction of Mr. Shriffrin, the Dance Band has played at several Central assemblies and at the other schools. This year the Dance Band has two new vocalists, Patricia Moore and Barbara Alexander.

SPORTS

the bulldogs in action....

CENTRAL 33 — SCRANTON 7

In Central's first meeting with Scranton in 25 years, Central's fired-up bulldogs walked all over the boys from the mining region to the tune of 33-7. Standouts for the Blue and White were backs, Jerry Hickey and Mike Ganisin, and end, Charlie Sax. Hickey completed 9 of 14 passes for a net gain of 163 yards through the air. Included in this were two touchdown heaves to end, Charlie Sax. Meanwhile, Ganisin gained 100 yards of Central's 205 rushing. Besides this, he also ran 70 yards for a touchdown on a punt return.

The closest Scranton got to the Bulldog goal line was in the final period when they advanced to the 9 only to lose the ball on a fumble, with fourth down and 1 yard to go.

NORWICH 14 — CENTRAL 6

A favored Bulldog eleven met tough opposition in Norwich and went down to defeat, 14-6. Ed Ackley, a 170-pound quarterback for the purple, repeated his outstanding performances of so many games to lead Norwich on to victory. The two touchdowns scored by Norwich were results of a blocked punt and an intercepted pass. Ackley, incorporated, stopped several Bulldog threats for the goal line.

Norwich's seven and eight-man defensive line seemed to puzzle the Blue and White who found themselves working the ball in their own territory during most of the game. Then, too, the frequent missing of blocking assignments added to the Central defeat. Amidst this, however, Dick Day showed his pride as a quarterback when he engineered the Bulldog offensive 91 yards for a touchdown.

CENTRAL 33 — E. S. S. 0

With Dick Day hitting paydirt twice, Central's spirited Bulldogs bolted past winless Elmira Southside, 33-0. Day scored the first of his two touchdowns on a 6-yard jaunt around left end. This first score was set up when Hickey recovered a fumble on the 47-yard line on the first play of the game. Another fumble by E. S. S. led to the second score, as Mo Helfer pounced on one on the Hornet's 4-yard stripe. Merrall brought this one across to make it 13-0. The rest of the scoring saw Hickey go over from two yards out, Day turned and twisted his way for 37 yards, and Mike Ganisin broke through the center of the line for a 63-yard run.

E. F. A. 30 — CENTRAL 0

Elmira's win shattered the hopes of many Centralites who were looking for a Bulldog league championship. According to pregame ratings, Central was supposed to be the main threat to the Elmarians. However, the game could hardly be proof of it.

The game was only a little over a minute old when Elmira had its first touchdown. Halfback Frank Gush burst through the center of the line, shifted a little to the right, and went the rest of the way, 58 yards, for a touchdown. After this the Bulldogs looked like a club that had lost all its spirit.

The statistics went as follows: Central had 8 first downs to Elmira's 6; the Bulldogs, however, could only move 78 yards along the ground to the Elmarians 138; through the air Central only managed to come up with 26 to the Blue Devil's 76.

NORTH 12 — CENTRAL 6

It seems that everytime Central plays North, the Indians are in high spirits and play the best game of the year. North didn't throw a pass in either of its touchdowns drives. When Central came back in the fourth period to push Bill Merrill over with four minutes left, the Bulldogs threw only one in the drive, that time unsuccessfully. Neither team got an extra point. Central appeared to have most of the breaks but couldn't capitalize on them. It recovered three bobbles and lost none and two others that would have helped a lot more, Rassmussen fumbling on Central's 21 on the first scoring drive and Strain on the 37 in the second march. Both times officials whistles stymied them, declaring the play dead. Before scoring, Central had drives stopped at the 23, the 10, and the 13.

ITHACA 26 — CENTRAL 14

Ithaca won their first Southern Tier Conference title. As was expected, the Red Men's attack was led by All-STC halfback, Bob Flynn. Flynn picked more than one-half the team's total rushing yardage, with an average of 8 yards per try. He also scored a touchdown. The first half ended with the score Ithaca 14, Central 0.

The Blue and White came back in the third period to play their best ball, with fullback Uhrinec doing most of the carrying when key yardage was needed. "Shine" Mezzadonna scored the touchdown with Uhrinec making the extra point. At the beginning of the fourth quarter Ithaca scored again making it 20-7. Then came the best run of the day, Dick Day's 76-yard punt return. With just 26 seconds left Ithaca scored again on a pass interception.

U. E. 33 — CENTRAL 7

After the first half had ended, U. E. led by only 6-0, and it looked as if Central was really going to give them a battle. "Shine" Mezzadonna carried the ball repeatedly in the first half and repeatedly made gains. At the beginning of the second half the game broke wide open, U. E. blocked a Central punt and scored. Minutes later, after a three-yard punt by Central, U. E. made the score 20-0 when Tatusko passed to De Paolo for a score. In the last quarter U. E. scored twice more with Bob Daglio and Ralph Weiland scoring for the Tigers from two yards out. The Bulldog's lone touchdown came when, with U. E. leading 33-0, Dick Day took the ball on the 13-yard line and raced 87 yards through the entire U. E. team to pay dirt. Bob Uhrinec kicked the extra point to make it 33-7 when the final gun went off.

POLIO STOPS JC-CENTRAL

The Central-Johnson City football game, scheduled for November 1, was postponed because a Central guard, Mo Helfer, contracted polio. The team's practices were cancelled for a week.

At Central 32 gridders received a group inoculation of gamma globulin, a medicine that has been used as a preventative and modifier of certain virus-incited diseases, such as measles and polio. Dr. Louis Borelli, Central team physician, supervised the inoculations.

JAYVEE FOOTBALL

The battling Bullpups of Central High ended the season with a 2-2-1 record plus a loss to Elmira Free Academy's J. V.'s in a non-league tilt down in Elmira on Columbus Day. Their 2-2-1 record was good enough to put them in second place, right behind North's J. V.'s who won it for the second straight year and whom Central downed in their opening game, 12-0. Their loss came at the hands of U. E. by the score of 13-7. Central's Bullpups also found themselves in a tie with Johnson City's J. V.'s, 6-6. Some of the young Bullpups that shone in the J. V.'s rout of Vestal, 45-13, for their final game were Mike Crisp, who scored three touchdowns; Dave Campoli, who plunged over from five yards out; Bob Di Benedetto, who hit the line for extra yardage, and Dave Cohen, who blocked a punt. Here's hoping they continue their good work on the Varsity.

Those aren't Central men on the field.

Pep Club....

An organization well calculated to keep the student body of Central High School in the spirit is the Pep Club. Their rousing yells, blue and white beanies, streamers, all add to the activity at the football games. This organization is certainly one of the most active in the school, and one of which Central might well be proud. The officers of the 1952-1953 season are Lois Taylor, President; Vice-President, Barbara Pullis; Secretary, Cheryl Jahns; Treasurer, Barbara Gould; Girls' Sergeant-at-Arms, Evelyn Ball and Barbara Ahern, respectively. During pep assemblies, these girls may be found in front row, center, giving support to the teams and contributing to the athletic program of Binghamton Central High.

Row 1: Joan Hurlburt, Mary Ann Guokas, Margaret Hurlburt, June Kocik, Barbara Ahearn, Grace Marderian, Barbara Gould, Joan Witteman, Jeannette Wurd, Jeannette Krna.

Row 2: Mary Jane Semonco, Mary Ann Baycura, Lucille Dennison,

Row 3: Joyce Kostick, Shirley Sisolak, Anna McClose, Janice Manning, Elizabeth Stebela, Barbara Card, Rita Porubiansky, Lois Taylor, Shirley Howard, Sandra Giragosian, Jean Warren, Ruth Allen.

Row 4: Alana Muscatello, Romaine Parsons, Lora Sickler, Theresa Vimilkik, Jeannine Strong, Mary Slavak, Dhyen McCollom, Margie Frey, Cheryl Jahns, Mildred Hirko, Louise Afarian, Phyllis Perman, Stella Welch.

Cheerleaders....

Spirit is well demonstrated by the Cheerleaders of Binghamton Central. These ambitious young girls have given their utmost to help support the football and basketball teams. In the crisp fall air they yell for Mr. Touchdown. They help bury U. E. at the big rally, not to mention the zest they add to the Pep Assemblies at school. Identified by their smart blue corduroy uniforms and perky blue beanies, they may be found at Kalurah Temple during the winter and early spring again cheering the basketball team on to victory. The cheerleaders in their own right are the unseen heroes of Central. They give much of their time and efforts to lead the students of Central in the yells and songs which help distinguish B. C. H. S. The cheerleaders for the 1952-1953 season, headed by Jennie Moses, are Joyce Berger, Mary Fields, Kay Casey, Seanne Sweet, Dorothy Mosher, Fran Gentile and Connie Tourjee.

Mascoteers....

"Do Gentlemen Prefer Blondes?" "Dukie," Central's mascot, agrees whole-heartedly to this question. He couldn't really object since his three escorts, the Mascoteers, are all natural blondes, Mary Ellen Molessa, Sally Van Der Kar and Marion Hurd. These attractive young ladies have this job of keeping "Dukie" intact during the football season at Binghamton Central. He is taken to other schools and walks about bearing the symbol of our team—a bulldog nature with a lot of fight and ambition. "Dukie's" escorts are dressed in heavy white woolen sweaters and Jay blue skirts. Their apparel carries out the color scheme of Central—that of the blue and white. These girls add much color and have a wonderful way of keeping "Dukie" in his best canine mood. We are indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meilke who are kind enough to loan "Dukie." The football games at Central would never be the same without this vigil over our own "Bulldogs."

Twirlers....

To the strains of the alma mater of Binghamton Central the twirlers perform their utmost on the football field. Their efforts have certainly won them a high place in the entertainment at a football game or at a parade. The colorful costumes and the excellent baton twirling seem to make these girls almost superhuman as they perform their various tricks of the trade. Mr. Shiffrin may be termed as an expert judge when it comes to selecting girls with talent, and these girls are certainly fine examples of his judgment. They add that wonderful zest and color loved by both young and old spectators. Led by Cay Dellapenta, head twirler, the group consists of Dorothy Pernes, Ann Kavulich, Sandy Edwards, Gail Husband, Terry Wagner, Judith Bartley, Roberta Merz, Lorraine Banovic and Elaine O'Brzut. These girls are certainly a deserving group and all the people who have ever seen them would no doubt agree.

on your toes boys....

No "fabulous five" romped the courts for Central High this season; no fairy land team coasted along a star studded way to easy victories and the Southern Tier Conference title; no five-man machine glided smoothly through the Section IV, Class AA championship game at Barton Hall, Cornell. Instead, a team with as much heart and guts as there was possible to be in a group of players, fought their way uphill through all opposition placed in front of them. This is what ran the ball for Central High—Section IV champions, a team of guts, heart and the will to win.

And yet champions just don't happen. They have to be trained and perfected by able masters. Coach Art Sharpsteen was such a master. Under his tutelage Central High had a champion. The road was not easy. The entire season was a series of high points of joy and victory and low ones of disappointment and defeat. The victory of the Blue and White was not suspected by anyone. The team was considered to be too young, too inexperienced. The team was young and inexperienced, two starters being juniors and another a sophomore. Yet it won, beating all the calculations and figurings of the experts. It won, putting itself among the great teams in Central's history.

The season was a thrilling one right down to the wire!

December 9—Away—Central 62, Ithaca 38

First game of the season with Central making 20 out of 55 shots. Ron Capalaces has 26 points, Cincebox, 15.

December 12—Home

February 13—Away—Central 79, North 55

Central wins easily as Cincebox makes 12 for 16 scoring 28. Capalaces has 22, Parke, 7, as Central climbs to second place in STC.

February 17—Away—Central 59, U. E. 57

Central wins close one making 21 out of 28 free throws. Capalaces has 18 while Parke pushes in 16.

February 20—Home—Central 69, Vestal 47

Weak Vestal shows spurts of power as Central remains in second spot in STC. Pichette is high man with 16, Capalaces has 15.

February 27—Away

Central 71, Elmira South Side 51

Game is close with Central winning in last eight minutes. Team has 30 for 79 while Cincebox scores 20, Pichette has 19, Capalaces, 14.

March 3—Away—Central 64, J. C. 77

1,000 people watch J. C. take second win from Central this season. Capalaces high with 23, Pichette has 14.

March 6—Home—Central 84, Cortland 61

Central takes season's closer at Kalurah Temple. Capalaces is second highest scorer in STC with 19.5 average. Parke has 23 points as Cincebox grabs 18 rebounds, and Pichette hauls in 16.

The actual season is over, the sectional play-offs come up with Central facing North and J. C. in that order.

March—Central 71, North 64

Central sinks 29 for 67 in game played at neutral J. C. court. 300 look on as Parke is high with 20, Capalaces scores 18.

March—Central 70, J. C. 65

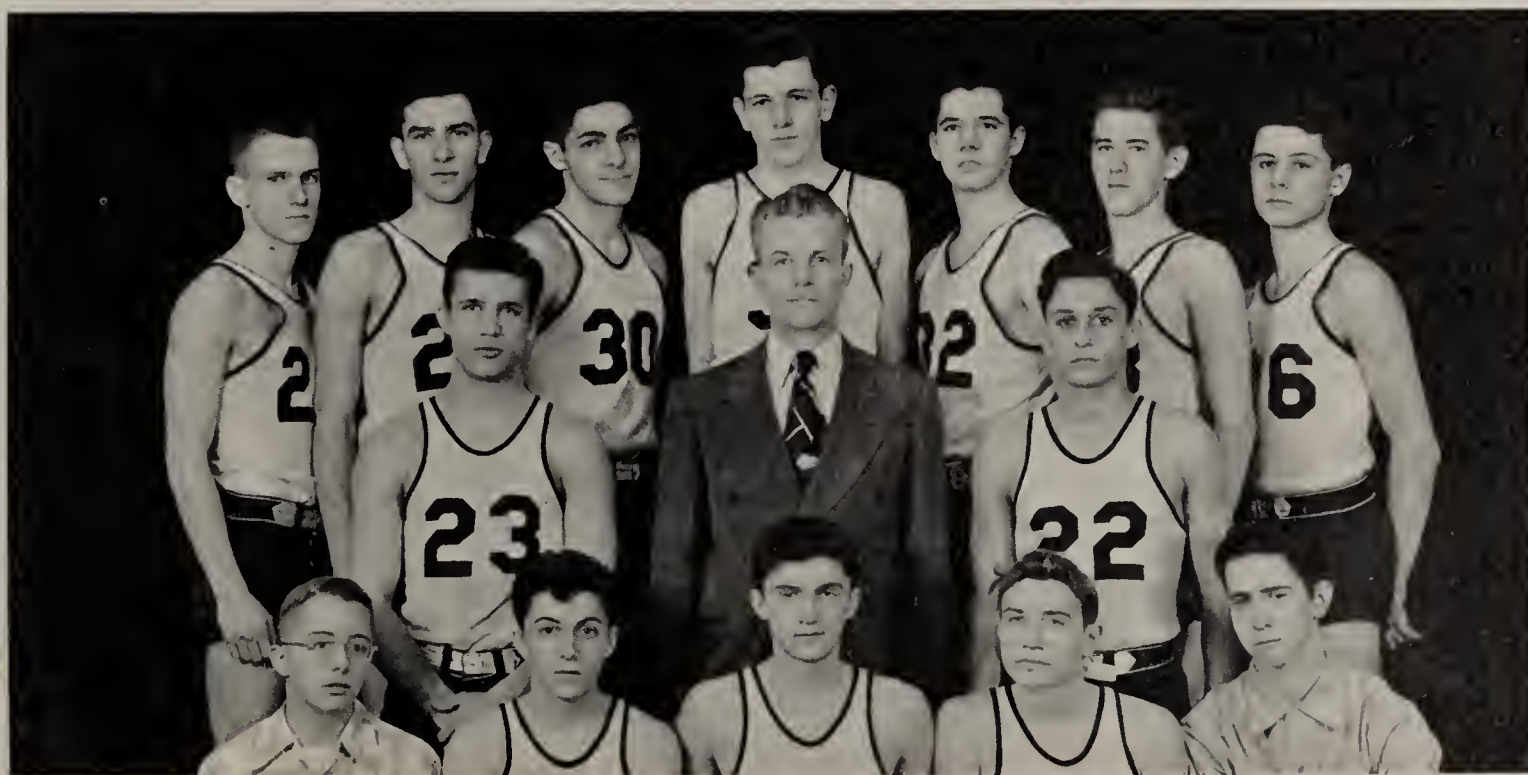

In one of the most thrilling games of the season Central outguns J. C. as crowd of 700 look on. Pichette sparks Central with his all-around playing and scores 16. Cincebox has 17, Capalaces, 16.

After unexpected defeat of J. C., Central moves to Barton Hall, Cornell University to meet Elmira Free Academy for Section IV, Class AA championship game. During regular season E. F. A. twice beat Central by close margins.

March—Central 58, Elmira Free Academy 53

850 watch as Central pulls sensational second-half upset over E. F. A. Skip Reynolds plays best game of season, putting Central ahead in third period by timely baskets—is high for season scoring eight. Mike Ganisin plays good game and scores 10 points. Capalaces has 15, Pichette, 13. Central emerges as Section IV, Class AA champions.

The season—its wins and defeats—is in the record now. It is over. In years to come other good seasons will go and pass in the same way. Many words will be written about them, the best of which can be written about this one—it was one to make Central proud.

Central scores again.

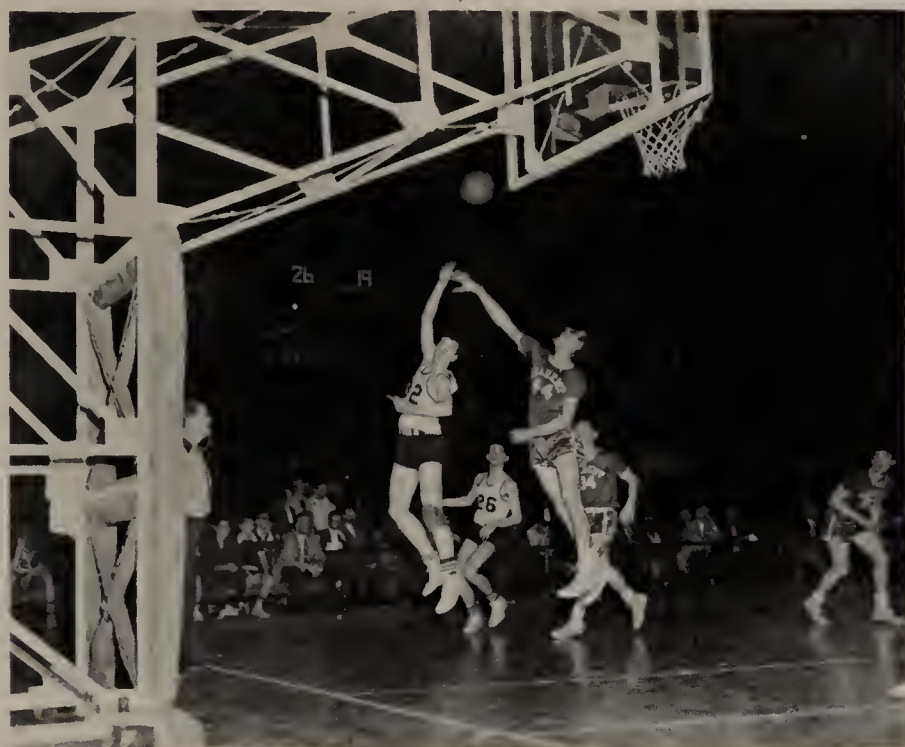

Yoo hoo!

It's over your head.

the J.V.'s....

The 1952-1953 season saw another champion Central basketball team walk off with the Sectionals. Although not one member of last year's "fabulous five" had re-entered school in September, thanks to Art Sharpsteen, a champion team was again produced. Suffering only four defeats, two to J. C., two to E. F. A, the Central team, against all predictions made by the press, avenged these losses in their bid for the Section 4 "AA" championship. Luckily the midterm graduation did not seriously affect Central's fortune as the core of Ron Capalaces, Ken Pichette, Ted Park and Jon Cincebox rolled on. Mike Ganisin, Charlie Sax and Skip Reynolds also played a vital part in securing Central's top spot in the Sectionals.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASEBALL

The Central J. V. baseball team has plenty of potential this year. There are 18 boys on the team, most of them sophomores. They practice nights after school at Ansco field under the watchful eye of Coach Bud Deyo. Mr. Deyo, who coaches at Columbus, took over the J. V.'s when Coach John Lalley took over the varsity. A junior varsity league has been established in the Triple Cities for the first time. The J. V.'s play eight league games plus games against junior high teams. The J. V.'s enable the boys to get needed experience for the varsity.

VARSITY BASEBALL

The outlook for Central's varsity baseball team is bright this year with six lettermen returning from last year's third place squad, namely, Jerry Hickey, Ken and Bill Pichette, Frank Micalizzi, Ang Chapula and Charlie Sax. When former coach Ben Gold left Central, Coach John Lalley took over the helm. Twelve conference games have been scheduled, two with each of the Triple Cities schools and one game with each of Cortland, Ithaca, E. S. S. and E. F. A. Practices held daily at Recreation Park began during Easter vacation with 60 candidates trying out. All told, Central's championship chances appear good.

SWIM TEAM

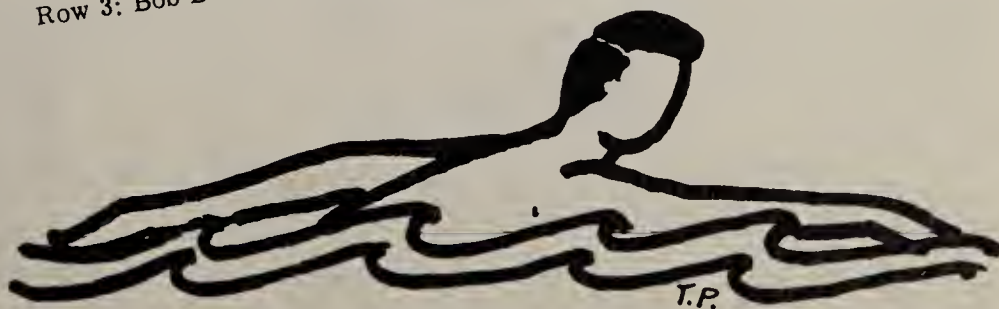

Once again the swim team has brought credit to Central High. Lack of competition in the Southern Tier forced the team to travel to Central New York and Pennsylvania. The first match was against West Scranton with an impressive Bulldog victory, 46-17. The next match was swum against the powerful St. Francis High School of Utica. St. Francis eked out a 42-29 victory as did Geneva the following week by a 46-29 score. Traveling once again to Scranton, the Central Bullfish fought Scranton Tech to a tie.

Besides these duo meets the mermen finished second in a quadruple meet. The winner was Scranton Central, the Pennsylvanian State champions. In a triangular meet Central finished last to St. Francis and Scranton Central. The Bullfish ended their season with two impressive victories, both against Auburn High School. The first win was in the West Junior pool by the close score of 39-36. The following week Central repeated the feat at Auburn by a 43-32 score. This victory was highlighted by the setting of two records by Dave Payne.

Since the Central High swim team was the only one in Sectional IV, it can claim that championship also. Probably the most enlightening news of all is the outlook for next year. This year's team is entirely made up of juniors and sophomores. With all of these returnees, Central is certain to have one of the top teams in the state. Coach Hartung can be proud of the job he has done with these boys.

TRACK

With the return of several lettermen, the outlook for this year's track team is very good. Among the returnees is Ron Capalaces whose pole vaulting and broad jumping will again assure Central of constant first places in these events. For the high jump John Jones and Bill Stevens have continued their good form and are positive of placing in the jumping event. Bill Hapgood and Charles Petrasek are the team's discus and shot put men. For the running events Bill Merrill, Joe Rexford, Bernie Rosefsky and Dick Day form the nucleus. Bill and Joe are 100-yard dash men while Dick runs the 220. Bernie is a quarter-miler. The graduation list took Joe Poodiack and Ed Gulbran leaving Coach Merz in a dither for milers and half-milers. These two events are the weakest ones for Central. Also graduation has taken Central's star hurdlers, Corky Lynch, Walt McCarthy and Mike Walsh. These boys were constant point winners in all previous meets and their loss will be felt.

The season opened on April 25 with the Sectional IV relay meet at Vestal. Following this meet will be duo meets against each of the local high schools and Ithaca. These meets, with the exception of Ithaca, are held on Wednesdays and serve as time trials in preparation of the big meets on Saturdays. These Saturday quadruple meets are run against more distant cities such as Elmira and Utica. The most important meet of all is the Triple Cities meet. On the trophy presented to the victors of this meet, both Central and U. E. have two of the three legs necessary for permanent ownership. This year decides the issue since both schools are fielding the top teams in the area. Those boys who place in the Tri-Cities meet go to the Sectional IV track meet held at Cornell. The Central cindermen hope to win this championship for the second straight year. Everyone who places in the Cornell meet gets the opportunity to enter the New York State meet at West Point in June. At any rate, Coach Merz and the team are looking forward to a victorious season which may show a repeat of last year's undefeated record.

Bowling....

Binghamton Central's Bowling team is at the top of the bowling conference this year. The varsity, under the direction of Coach Frank Clark, has gone, thus far, unbeaten. The varsity players are Mike Hakos, Baron Lawrence, Walter Baran, George Barnes, Ted Noble, Ken DeMunn and George Vashina. Baron Lawrence is tops in scoring followed by Walter Baran and Ted Noble. The season included six regular scheduled games and the Section 4 tournament played on March 28. The J. V. bowlers include Bob Sisolak, Alvin Coen, Bob Trippico, Bob Orsi, Maynard Gilinsky, Sam Peppas, Ronald Moffit and James Lacatina with Trippico, Peppas, Gilinsky, and Lacatina most outstanding among the J. V.'s.

This year a spirited volleyball team marched forward to victory as it went through the season with one defeat and that to J. C. Even though the old gym is in the process of being torn down to make way for a new athletic plant, the team managed to hike over to Daniel Dickinson to practice and to practice under the guidance of Coach John Lalley to the peak of perfection. Although the graduation in January took Rudy Scheerer from the team's roster, the spring team found Dick Kovac leading the way with an outstanding team backing. The results of the Sectionals showed Central winning as a result of an exciting game with Union Endicott High School.

Volleyball....

fore....

Central was fortunate this year in having four lettermen returning from last year's squad which copped second place in the conference. These lettermen are Dan O'Neill, Bob Kopecek, Dick Levene and Mike Hakos.

Twenty boys, including seven sophomores, showed up at the first meeting which was held prior to Easter vacation. Because the time was short, the boys had to get in shape themselves over the vacation. Eliminations were held to determine positions. Coach Art Sharpsteen retained as many boys as possible so they could gain experience.

In previous years practices were held only at Ely Park, but this year the team was allowed to practice, free of charge, at the Binghamton Country Club and Vestal Hills. All home matches are played at Ely Park. This season a total of eleven matches have been scheduled, namely, U. E., J. C., Ithaca, Elmira Heights, Waverly and Cortland, most of them on a "home and home" basis. A J. V. match with U. E. was also scheduled.

O'Neill, Kopecek, Levene, Hakos, Okoniewski and Jankiewicz made up the varsity which made a fine record for B. C. H. S.

love....

With the advent of sunny days and balmy weather, tennis again takes its place with the spring sports.

The tennis team this year is made up of four seniors, Jack McCormick, Tim O'Neil, Bill Altman and Dave Dreyer. Only one, Jack McCormick, is a returning letterman. A sophomore and a freshman complete the team; they are, respectively, Bob Tate and Dan Kane. Central's outlook has been bleak with one bright spot in the form of freshman Danny Kane whose better than average tennis gives Coach Guley room for some pleasant speculation into the future. The positions for playing were Jack McCormick, number one; Tim O'Neil, number two; Dan Kane, number three; Bill Altman, number four, and Bob Tate or Dave Dreyer playing number five.

The schedule this season consisted of six matches plus the Sectionals. The Tennis Sectionals were held this year at Binghamton's Recreation Park with Central as host team.

Row 1: Bob Tate, Bill King, Harvey Katz, Stuart Pearis.
Row 2: Dave Dreyer, David Payne, Mr. Guley, Bill Altmann, Ronald French.

Swimming....

One of the many sports activities which are offered to Central girls is swimming. In order to take swimming the girls must pass the physical examination which are given at the Central Clinic. Every Thursday night from November to March the girls meet at the West Junior pool, since Central has no pool of its own, as yet. This year 15 girls out of the class, which is directed by Miss Margaret Frear, began an eight-week senior lifesaving course on January 29th. The eight (out of the 15) girls who passed the written and practical test were: Eleanor Ball, Evelyn Ball, Barbara Grabosky, Susan Cowen, Nan Pearlman, Cheryl Jahns, Dyhan McCollom and Ellen Clune. Besides this, the regular activities, such as water basketball and free swim, also continued.

All set to go in. Let's hope the water's fine.

Basketball....

Since Central High does not have its own gym yet, every Tuesday night Central High girls can go over to West Junior to play basketball. This year the captains of the six teams were Barbara Alexander, Evelyn Heiyen, Theresa Lomonaco, Sue Standfast, Lois Maston and Connie Meir. After a season of hard playing, under the direction of Miss Peggy Freat and Lt. Francis Carns, Sue Standfast's team came in first, Nancy Meir's, second; Terry Lomonaco's, third; Lois Maston's and Evelyn Heiyen's tied for fourth, and Connie Touijee's, fifth. Next year, when Central has its own gym, the girls will miss these basketball games and other sports they have played nights at the West Junior gym.

Judy Bartley discussing basketball pointers with Punky Kenney, Maureen Galvin, and Pam Crossley.

Bowling....

Bowling is a very enjoyable sport in which many high school students participate. At Central we have bowling teams for girls and boys. Each member of a team tries very hard to obtain the best average because trophies are given annually to the best bowler and to the top team. The girls' team at Central is sponsored by the Police Athletic League. Besides competing among themselves, Central's teams play against other bowling teams of other high schools in the city. For those who do not know how to bowl, instructions are given not only about rules of the game but also how to learn to keep score. Bowling is not only good exercise but is enjoyed as a pleasant sport for both boys and girls.

One of Central's star bowlers, catch that smile!
